EXCURSION TO LAKE HENRY.—Palestine Senate, Knights of the Ancient Egyptian Order, will run the first excursion of the season to Lake Henry, Pa. Arrangements are being made to make the affair a great success.

A $10,000 ICE COMPANY.—Scranton and Wilkes-Barre are interested in the Lake Poccano Ice company which was chartered last week in Dover, Del., with a capital stock of $10,000. The location of the company's water is in Monroe county.

A HANDSOME CAR.—One of the handsomest electrically illuminated trolleys ever seen in this city was run over the various lines on Saturday night last, advertising the annual picnic of the Street Railway Men's association to be held on July 14 in Laurel Hill park.

WEEK'S CLEARING.—The clearing for the Scranton Clearing House association for the week ending June 23, 1900, as reported by the Trades' National bank are as follows: Monday, $181,741; Tuesday, $167,339.84; Wednesday, $200,690.94; Thursday, $238,667.80; Friday, $125,789.14; Saturday, $119,822.71; total, $1,116,966.86.

HE WAS ALONE.—Richard Kimmacher, proprietor of the Green Ridge hotel on Dickson avenue, says The Tribune to state that when E. E. Everhart was arrested at his hotel early Saturday morning he was alone. Everhart and Mrs. Rinsland were never at his hotel at the same time, Mr. Kimmacher declares.

LAND AND BUILDINGS SOLD.—The joint public buildings committee of councils, at a meeting held last Friday night, disposed of the buildings formerly owned by Mrs. Dale, on that portion of Wyoming avenue which is soon to be opened to Herman Hagen, for $225. A strip of land adjacent to N. A. Hulbert's property was sold to him for 25 cents a square foot.

DRURY ELECTED.—At the regular meeting of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Machine and Car Shops Mutual Aid association, Friday evening, Joseph Drury was elected to fill the unexpired term in the office of treasurer made vacant by the resignation of Richard P. Halligan, Jr., who resigns the position on account of the pressure of his other business interests.

CONVENTION AT NANTICOKE.—The annual convention of the Sunday schools of the Welsh Congregational churches of Northeastern Pennsylvania will be held in Nanticoke tomorrow and Wednesday. Rev. David Jones and S. R. Jones will represent the First church of this city. The former will deliver an address Wednesday afternoon on "The Importance and Benefits of the Old Testament Study."

CLOSING RECITAL.—Tonight will be the closing recital of the season by the pupils of the piano department of the Hartsenburgh School of Music and Art. The recital will be held in Gurney hall. The following is the program: at which time Mr. Bedford, was elected chairman of the committee in charge; W. C. C. secretary, and T. J. Fleming, treasurer. Several subscriptions have already been made toward the outing fund. Another meeting will be held Friday evening.

END OF CONTEST.—G. O. Bello's contest for ladies' dress patterns and gents' patterns was disposed of on June 23.—The tickets were drawn from a box and resulted as follows: First prize, Mrs. J. Bello, of Dunmore, who held ticket No. 30; second prize, won by No. 297, held by Mrs. C. McAvoy, of Old Forge; third prize, won by No. 490, held by T. Williams, of Prospect avenue, South Side.

NEWSBOYS' OUTING.—Arrangements are now being made for the newsboys' annual picnic. A meeting was held Saturday morning at the office of Park Commissioner A. P. Bedford to formulate plans, at which Mr. Bedford, was elected chairman of the committee in charge; W. C. C. secretary, and T. J. Fleming, treasurer. Several subscriptions have already been made toward the outing fund. Another meeting will be held Friday evening.

RUNAWAY CAUSES TROUBLE.—During an altercation between Pedler Jencovitz, of Canaan, and his assistant, Saturday, the horse attached to the former's wagon ran away, and, colliding with a post, the wagon's contents were thrown out. While picking them up Jencovitz rather roughly pushed aside little Eva Flanagan. The latter's parents swore out a warrant before Alderman De Lacy, but the case was settled by Jencovitz paying the costs.

RAN OVER HIS LEG.—Frank Skorout, of the South Washington avenue flats, was taken to the Lackawanna hospital early yesterday morning with one leg broken and his body badly bruised as the result of being run over by a car at the Lackawanna crossing at Elm street. He was lying at the crossing asleep with one leg on the track, and while in this position was run over. He is at the Lackawanna hospital. Skorout is a miner and is employed at the Bellevue mine.

CONVENTION AT CHARLESTON.—Superintendent George Howell of the city schools will meet this morning at 10 o'clock with teachers who intend going to the National Teachers' association convention at Charleston, S. C. A steamship agent will be present to give necessary information. Inquiries have been made by persons other than teachers regarding the privilege of attending the meeting. Superintendent Howell desires it to be understood that all who are thinking of attending the convention will be welcomed this morning to confer with the teachers regarding the trip.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF ALUMNI.—The annual banquet of the High School Alumni association, which is to be held tonight in the Bicycle Club house, promises to be the most successful in the history of the organization. A business session will be held at 7:30 o'clock and the banquet will begin shortly after 8 o'clock. Judge John P. Kelly will be the toastmaster and the following toasts will be responded to: President's address, "Welcome to the Class of 1900," John M. McCourt; "What the Class Has to Say," John Farnham Meers, president of the class of 1900.

AN ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE SUNDAY

SPECIAL SERVICES HELD IN TWENTY-NINE CHURCHES.

Various State Officials of the Organization and Several Prominent Laymen from Various Parts of the State Delivered Addresses.—Rev. Dr. H. A. Tucker, the State Superintendent, Here—The Purposes and Aims of the League Thoroughly Discussed.

The Anti-Saloon league, an organization which is only five years old, but which is rapidly assuming immense proportions, took charge of a part of the services in twenty-nine of the city churches yesterday. Prominent clergymen and laymen from various parts of the state who are workers in the league came on here and spoke in at least two churches, while some spoke in three.

The addresses given were all of a temperance nature and the principles and aims of the league were thoroughly explained.

REV. H. A. TUCKER, OF HARRISBURG, State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League.

By explained, Rev. W. H. Williams, the local superintendent, had charge of all the arrangements for this Anti-Saloon Sunday and so complete had they been made that there was no hitch whatever. All of the speakers were of hand and all of the addresses were given as previously announced.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT HERE.

The state superintendent of the league, Rev. H. A. Tucker, D. D., of Harrisburg, was the most prominent visitor in the city yesterday, and spoke in the Washburn Street Presbyterian church at night. He also delivered an address at 6 o'clock in the Welsh Presbyterian church and spoke at 7:30 in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church.

The congregations of the Providence Presbyterian and Methodist Episcopal churches united in the Presbyterian church in the morning and listened to an excellent address by Rev. P. E. Towner, D. D., superintendent of the North Philadelphia district. Rev. Mr. Towner spoke in the evening at the Tabernacle Congregation and Jackson Street Baptist churches.

Rev. Mr. Williams, the local superintendent, spoke in the Dunmore Presbyterian church in the morning and in the evening, namely, the Zion United Evangelical, First Welsh Baptist and the First Baptist.

Rev. C. H. Heister, D. D., president of Susquehanna university, at Selin's Grove, and state president of the league, spoke in the Grace Evangelical Lutheran church in the morning and in the Calvinistic and Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal churches at night.

Rev. William G. Hubbard, D. D., superintendent of the South Philadelphia district, spoke in the First Methodist Episcopal church, Dunmore, in the morning, and in the evening delivered an address in the Puritan Congregational church.

Hon. W. H. Kell, superintendent of the Williamsport district and the league's attorney in this state, spoke in the morning in the Ash Street Methodist Episcopal church and in the evening in the Grace Reformed Episcopal church. Rev. W. T. Riley, D. D., superintendent of the Sunbury district, delivered an address in the morning in the Dudley Street Baptist church, Dunmore, and in the evening spoke in the Welsh Congregational and Asbury Methodist Episcopal churches.

THE OTHER SPEAKERS.

Rev. A. W. Swingle, of Harrisburg, was the speaker at All Souls' Universalist church in the morning and at the Court Street Methodist Episcopal church in the evening. Rev. M. H. Gottschall, D. D., another prominent Harrisburg clergyman, spoke at the First German Methodist Episcopal and the Tripp Avenue Christian churches.

Professor T. B. Birch, A. M., of the female college at Mechanicsburg, spoke at the Calvary Reformed and Primitive Methodist churches, and Professor R. F. Dougherty, A. M., delivered an address at the evening at the Providence Christian church.

The Anti-Saloon league, in the interests of which yesterday's meetings were held, is an organization which has its birth some five years ago in Ohio and which has since grown with wonderful rapidity. It is strictly non-partisan and un denominational and seeks to create a sentiment against the saloon among all the people.

It is divided in each state into three departments, namely, agitation, law enforcement and legislation. Yesterday's meetings were held for the purpose of agitation and at the close of each enrollment blanks were offered for the signatures of all who might desire to become league members. Another Anti-Saloon Sunday is being planned for the churches not included yesterday.

Pain Conquered; Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 5419]

"I feel it my duty to write and thank you for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. It is the only medicine I have found that has done me any good. Before taking your medicine, I was all run down, tired all the time, no appetite, pains in my back and bearing down pains and a great sufferer during menstruation. After taking two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I am now on my fourth bottle and all my pains have left me. I feel better than I have felt for three years and would recommend your Compound to every suffering woman. I hope this letter will help others to find a cure for their troubles."—MRS. DELLA REMICKER, RENSSELAER, IND.

The serious ill of women develop from neglect of early symptoms. Every pain and ache has a cause, and the warning they give should not be disregarded.

Mrs. Pinkham understands these troubles better than any local physician and will give every woman free advice who is puzzled about her health. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass. Don't put off writing until health is completely broken down. Write at the first indication of trouble.

and when this has been held Rev. Williams will call a meeting of all the enrolled members and permanent organization will be effected.

When this organization has been perfected the actual work can be begun and a sentiment can be created at election time in favor of the candidates for the legislature who will favor a revision of the liquor laws of this state, which, according to Mr. Williams, are the worst in the country. There are now in this state alone fifteen men who devote their entire time and attention to furthering the interests of the league.

ST. JOHN'S DAY OBSERVED

Knights of Malta Listen to a Sermon by Rev. Dr. Pierce in the Penn Avenue Baptist Church.

It was St. John's Day yesterday and the Knights of Malta of the city recognized the day of their patron saint by attending services at the Penn Avenue Baptist church, and listened to a sermon on "The Christian Soldier," by Rev. R. F. Y. Pierce, D. D., the knights themselves being the subject on which the sermon was based.

The church was handsomely decorated, the platform being covered with palms and greens, and on high in front of the organ was the emblem of the Knights of Malta, a splendid Maltese cross. It was studded with colored electric lights, and made an imposing picture. Underneath were two long plumes, crossed, another emblem. The standard of Athracite commandery, No. 211, was also in evidence.

Fully one hundred and twenty-five knights were present, the majority of whom were members of Athracite commandery, which was the only one to attend in a body. O. S. Ridgway, a past commander in the order, marshaled the body at Malta hall, in the Gurnsey building, on Washington avenue, whence the knights marched to the church.

Rev. Frank B. Reese heading Athracite commandery. The other Malta branches represented were Washington commandery, No. 232; Electric City commandery, No. 285; General Grant commandery, No. 230, and St. Stephens commandery, No. 286.

The members were attired in their full uniforms and presented a splendid appearance as they marched into the sacred edifice.

The Knights of Malta have grown to the greatest local institution. The order is of a beneficial nature, and possesses many advantages for the members. It is an association of long standing and firm basis, being one of the oldest institutions of its kind in the world, the order being founded back in the middle ages.

They served during the Crusades, doing splendid work and throughout the centuries following those great periods of the religious wars, proved themselves a potent factor in Europe.

Dr. Pierce, last night, after welcoming the knights to the church, made his address, taking as his theme the text, "Watch ye stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong."—1 Corinthians 1: 13.

In the course of his talk he described the connection between Christianity and the entire principles of the Knights of Malta. He read aloud a few of the principles of the order, and remarked upon the similarity between them and the general tenets of the Bible, upon which, in fact, the order is founded. Dr. Pierce spoke of the powers of organization and said:

"This is an age of organizations, of benefit associations, but of them all, to my mind, there never was a higher degree of morality brought about by any association than by the Knights of Malta. They are sworn to defend civil and religious liberty and surely nothing reaches higher patriotism, than this."

"We need organizations of this nature, and men of that kind, men who secure good government, purify politics and stand side by side with those men who are now engaged in trying to bring about municipal reform."

Dr. Pierce here started to talk about the question of voting and expressed his opinion regarding the fact that many balloting booths are located in saloons. "Rather," said he, "would I open the doors of the church and have people vote in this building than see them forced to go into a saloon, and there cast their ballot."

RELIGIOUS NEWS NOTES.

Right Rev. Bishop Nolan administered confirmation yesterday afternoon at the Towanda Catholic church.

A praise service was conducted last night in the First Presbyterian church, the excellent quartet rendering special music.

Rev. Marion L. Flor, the new pastor of the Calvary Reformed church, spoke last evening on "The Power of the Cross."

Rev. J. W. Messenger, pastor of the Zion United Evangelical church, preached two sermons yesterday on the twentieth century movement.

"The Gema We Pines by the Wayside," was the topic of a sermon preached last night by Rev. G. R. Beardsley, pastor of All Souls' Universalist church.

Rev. A. C. Cure, pastor of the Providence Methodist Episcopal church, preached a sermon last evening on "A Glimpse of Martin Luther and His Times." A number of hymns written by Luther were sung during the evening.

BRIEF MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR

LIEUTENANT JOHN DAVIS, OF THE POLICE FORCE.

He is One of the Most Popular Men in His Department—His Experience in California—Frank E. Donnelly, One of the Latest Additions to the Lackawanna Bar—J. B. Neale, the Superintendent of the Mt. Pleasant Colliery—His Adjustment of the Strike.

Among all the members of the Scranton police force there is not a better known or more popular man than Lieutenant John Davis. He has been on the force a long time now, working his way up from the ranks to the important position he at present holds.

Everyone knows the lieutenant, and there is more than one man about town who can thank him for many a friendly little turn. With the members of the force he is exceedingly popular, and is regarded by Chief of Police Robbing as one of his right-hand men.

It is Lieutenant Davis' duty to take charge of the entire central city from about 7:30 o'clock in the evening until early the next morning, patrolling each beat and seeing that all is well. Anything out of the ordinary that transpires is immediately reported to him, as a result of which many an embryo riot, and sometimes even murder, is nipped in the bud while yet a mere disorderly brawl.

Lieutenant Davis has traveled considerably in the states, and spent a portion of his life in California, in the days when the western states came a good deal nearer to the dime novel pictures of them than they do at present. His experiences there are still vivid in Lieutenant Davis' mind, and when feeling so inclined he tips back his chair, puffs away at his pipe and tells tales, which are tales. They are stories of a Bret Harte-like variety, and never fail to interest those fortunate enough to hear them.

The following complimentary notice of a young attorney, recently admitted to the Lackawanna bar, is from the Wilkes-Barre News:

Frank E. Donnelly, one of the most promising young members of the Luzerne bar, who has practiced here ever since his graduation from Yale college, closed up his law office yesterday and left for Scranton, where he has formed a partnership with George H. Rice, one of Lackawanna's ablest young attorneys, and a former classmate at Yale.

Mr. Donnelly graduated with high honors at Yale in the class of '96 and immediately came to this city and entered the office of John T. Lenahan as a student. The next year he was admitted, and his brilliant attainments won him a high place at the bar, while his gentlemanly attributes soon surrounded him with a large circle of friends. His high conception of honor commanded the respect of clients as well as fellow attorneys, while his studious habits and innate ability commanded general admiration. His law practice grew steadily and had he chosen to remain in this city it would be a question of but a few years until he would have been classed among the ablest lawyers at a bar reputed to be one of the most brilliant in all of Pennsylvania.

Recently he saw in an association with Mr. Rice a shorter road to fame and fortune and after careful deliberation decided to accept it. The firm of Donnelly & Rice, in addition to the usual law practice, will represent in conjunction with Frank W. Larned, esq., the Reading Trust company, one of the largest and wealthiest in the state. Socially, Mr. Donnelly is one of the best fellows on earth, whose hosts of friends regret his departure, but will rejoice in all the success he is sure to attain up in Lackawanna.

J. B. Neale, superintendent of the Mt. Pleasant colliery, operated by the Fuller Coal company, who is just now enjoying a much-needed rest from his arduous labors, deserves much credit for the satisfactory adjustment of the trouble which for ten weeks caused a suspension of operations at the mine. During the short time he has been superintendent at the colliery he has reorganized the working force and increased the output of coal from the mine.

Instead of making enemies of the men under him during the strike, he succeeded in winning their friendship by his straightforward manner of dealing with them, and he not only attended their meetings and brought about an amicable adjustment of affairs, but also replaced all of the old employees in their former positions and aided them in every possible manner in obtaining a satisfactory scale of wages.

Mr. Neale is of the new type of mine superintendents. He is a college man, who studied the theoretical side and supplemented this with actual experience in all the various branches of work at a colliery above and below ground. He is of the class of well-equipped men, who are going to forge to the front in mining circles as the mining problems to be solved in this region become more complicated.

Mr. Joseph Jennings, of Pittsburg, formerly of this place is visiting his parents on Gilmore avenue.

Saturday was pay-day at Greenwood, and as a result a good many free-for-all fights occurred there. One which took place in that vicinity will probably result fatally for one of the victims, who had his skull crushed with a stone in one of the battles. Those engaged in the fracas were all Polanders, with unmentionable names. The man who was hit lies in a precarious condition and may die. The man who committed the deed was captured later on by Squire Thompson and a squad of deputies, and was taken to the county jail.

The Minooka base ball team easily defeated the South Side Sunsets yesterday in a game which was listless throughout, although a few good plays were made on both sides. The score was 4 to 6.

Miss Annie Mulderig, a bright and estimable young lady of Main street, died Saturday evening at the home of her mother, after an illness of some months. The deceased was one of the most respected young women of the vicinity, and her death is a loss to the community. The funeral will be announced later.

Two Reasoners.

Mr. Black—A free' oh mine, he won a prize in doctory lessons, an' he keeps at it, 'tinkin' it'll happen ag'in.

Mr. Jones—And why do you keep at it?

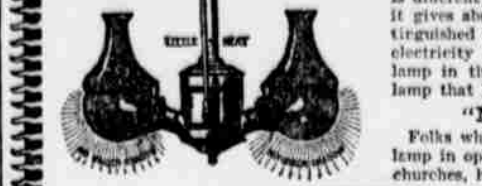

Mr. Black—Case I never won nothin' an' it ought to come mah turn soon—Puck.
